PAC responds to Whittle

Members of the Parent Advisory Committee viewed the Whittle Communication Channel One News program at the February 26, 1990 meeting. A discussion followed the presentation and revealed the following:

Advantages.

-Students are watching the news.

-Students are all walked away knowing Ford Motors, Maybelline and Snickers were advertisers, but few could remember more than one or two news items.

-Solicitation if Whittle Communications is allowed to solicit in our school their box can you rightfully refuse anyone else!

-There is also a concern when would students view Channel One? Let's not put the cart before the horse don't sign a contract with Whittle's Communications and then decide when the news program would be viewed.

Of the parents present at the meeting no parents were in favor of the Channel One News Program, 20% of the parents were undecided and 80% of the parents were decidedly against the implementation of this program.

We would not be in favor of the school district spending $75,000 on this program, and even though it is "free" we seriously question it's value.

As a parents group we agree that our school has no business selling student's class time to advertisers, and we urge other parents to convey these sentiments to members of the school board and administration.

Takes exception to handling of "Vigilantes" by media

I really feel that I must take exception to the methods of the authorities and local media in their handling of the Dillsburg "Vigilantes." A bunch of "typical" teenagers on an "outing" to "show off" with some jars of jellied gasoline and gunpowder, boxes of shotgun shells loaded with rock salt, several shotguns, and ski masks become "vigilantes" with "bombs" "Semi-automatic weapons" and a "large amount of ammunition" in a "conspiracy." Makes the story more sensational doesn't it? But is it accurate or necessary? What these "kids" did and were attempting to do was stupid, incredibly stupid in retrospect. It may even violate some laws. But that doesn't make the kids stupid and it isn't necessary that they become criminals. From all accounts, including some which didn't appear in the media, this was hardly the stuff of diabolical vengeance murders. The local police too must take a share of my dismay. I understand why they apprehended the kids and fully support them in that action. We can't condone potentially dangerous acts, even among "typical" teenagers. But it seems that we have reserved majority to age 21 because "youths" do these kinds of "dumb" things. The sensationalism given to the event including numerous media interviews and photographs of the police, did little to enhance the stature of our police and the communities they serve. I suspect instead of the "goats" they should be, they have made these kids heroes of sorts among their peers and have probably increased the likelihood of other anti-social acts. We used to take care of these things privately among the parents and authorities in a way which punished but didn't risk ruining legitimate prospects for "typical teenagers". In any event, I sure am glad I made my student teenage mistakes in a different era!

607th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. C.N. Spangler of Rossville were guests of honor at a 60th anniversary party given by their children recently at Bonanza in Camp Hill. The Spanglers were married February 2, 1930 in the Lutheran Parsonage in Rossville by Reverend F.D. Sutton.

They are the parents of five children Eleanor Bantz of New Castle, DE, Charlotte Glasswitt, Carolyn Krall, Margaret Prosser and James B. Spangler all of Rossville.

Charles is the son of the late Charles U. and Margaret Burns Spangler of Rossville and is the owner of C.N. Spangler Garage. Mildred, a retired bookkeeper of C.N. Spangler Pontiac, is the daughter of the late George and Clara Zuver Wise of York.

They are members of St. Michael's Lutheran Church Rossville.

Mr. and Mrs. C.N. Spangler

Bomberger to appear in play

Heather Bomberger daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Bomberger of Dillsburg, was selected for West Virginia Wesleyan's spring theatre production "Peer Gynt."

"Peer Gynt" is a satiric poetic fantasy written in 1867 by Norwegian playwright Henrik Ibsen. The plot centers on the life of Peer, a liar and a braggart, who cannot separate myth from fact. "Peer Gynt" combines humor and an insight into human nature, which has enabled it to remain popular in educational and professional theatres throughout the world.

Performances will be April 8, 9, 11, and 12 at 7:30 p.m. in Atkinson Auditorium on the Wesleyan campus.

Tickets may be purchased at the door immediately before each performance or reservations may be made by calling (304) 473-8037 or 473-8364. General admission is $4.00, $2.00 for senior citizens and public school students.

West Virginia Wesleyan College is a four year, coeducational institution that offers more than 50 academic majors in the liberal arts and career-related fields of study. It has been recognized as one of the finest liberal arts colleges of its size in the mid-Atlantic region.

Harpster on dean's list

After prom party

The 1989-90 After Prom Party will soon be ready. All the plans and details, as well as the hopes and dreams of this year's committee members have been finalized and set into motion. Everything is falling into place and the Party promises to be terrific!!

There will be a disc jockey spinning records all night, a character artist, as well as a handwriting analyst. In addition, the students may swim, play volleyball, racquetball, watch movies, etc.

Besides all these fun things to do, those attending the party will be eligible for some great prizes. A 13" colored TV with remote control, a 5" black and white TV, a boom box with CD player are just a few of the many prizes that will be given away during the night. And of course don't forget the grand prize: the 1985 Plymouth Turismo donated by William Wenzel's Ford Cars. This car has been packed at the High School for the students to get a first hand look at what they might win.

Students may begin purchasing their tickets for the After Prom Party beginning April 11 through April 27. The tickets are $3.00 per person and can be bought during lunch in the cafeteria.

Volunteers are still needed to help the various committees listed below. If you would like to offer your help, please contact the chair people of the committee you are interested in or Linda Irwin at 432-8324 or Wanda Stiffler at 432-3024. Chaperones are still needed as well as help with decorations and food. The After Prom Party is seeking donations of breakfast items such as donuts, muffins, or rolls. Any business that is still interested in helping out in this area, please contact Linda or Wanda or any of the following chair people:

Door Prizes-Linda Irwin, Chaperones-Charlyn & Frank Guerriero, Publicity-Brenda Sanderson, Poster Advertising-Ann Pietropolis, Thank Yous-Wanda Stiffler, Decorating Bash and Joe Kowalski, Entertainment-Alyce and Marty Mehling, Food-Michelle Govora, Ticket Sales-Gina Guerriero.

The Dillsburg Jaycees present $2,000 checks to the Dillsburg Library and to the Northern York Task Force.

East Berlin health fair

On May 5, 1990, the East Berlin Lioness Club will again sponsor a "Quality of Life" Health Fair between the hours of 7 a.m. and 11 a.m. in the Zwingli United Church of Christ on West King Street. Featured this year will be a Multiphasic Screening Program. In addition, screening tests for urine, vision, blood pressure, diabetes and oral cancer will be available to interested participants.

The Multiphasic Blood Screening Program consists of a battery of thirty-four blood tests which are used to monitor the functioning of the major body organs, including the heart, liver, kidneys, circulatory and endocrine systems. Additionally, the testing includes glucose, cholesterol, uric acid, calcium, albumin, and triglycerides. The program is being offered to the public at a reduced fee of $20.00 per person. The fee payable to the Gettysburg Hospital, covers the cost of supplies and personnel needed to perform the sampling, analysis, reporting and maintenance of a permanent file. A fast of about twelve hours is required before a blood sample can be taken.

Participation in the Program is by appointment only. Appointment registration will begin April 23, 1990.
